

DENNIS PULEO

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

KHE SANH VETERANS MEMORIAL SERVICE

The son of a machinist and hotel housekeeper, Dennis Puleo joined the Marines to fight in Vietnam. During his last engagement, he took a direct hit by a hand grenade, was shot twice, then torn apart by a mortar. After being awarded three purple hearts, Dennis spent a year recuperating in a VA hospital.

He left the hospital determined that hard work and a positive attitude would make him rich. An aggressive entrepreneur, he turned a home-based business into a multimillion dollar franchise. Yet all his success couldn't remove the emptiness that plagued him deep inside.

Drawing from his experiences in the foxholes of war and business, Dennis will encourage you toward a life of purpose and hope.
